

Mitosis

Within humans, two copies of each chromosome exist. One is inherited from the father, and a second copy of the same chromosome is inherited from the mother.

One pair of homologous chromosomes is considered here.

This process occurs with all 23 homologous chromosome pairs.

